AccountMate Software Release Gives Clients a Competitive Advantage

PETALUMA, CA (July 14, 2010)—AccountMate Software Corporation today announced that it is releasing AccountMate 8 for SQL and Express software which incorporates over 100 enhancements and an entirely new module.

AccountMate 8 gives users added functionality such as the ability to drill down on the details in the Executive Summary Report, the ability to temporarily hold or increase customer credit limits, combine electronic payments during bank reconciliation, allocate quantity updated during work order explosion and support multi-step processing of work orders.

An entirely new module, The Custom Field Manager, is also being released. This optional module allows an authorized user to add custom fields to new tabs within all the accounting modules. These fields can also be added to the database.

Custom fields can be read-only or editable in select screen forms. This makes it easier to customize the software to capture additional information that the client may require, without having to modify the source code.

AccountMate products are supported by a global Solution Provider Channel that can also modify the software system using optional source code. This added capability plus the functionality in AccountMate 8 for SQL and Express further allows unlimited growth and competitive advantage for the thousands of AccountMate clients.
