Tamlin Software Developers Honored With Prestigious AccountMate President's Award

Tamlin also receives three performance awards during annual SYNERGY Conference

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 8, 2012 – Tamlin Software Developers and its CEO, Linda Bryan, were honored with the AccountMate® Software Corporation's President's Award for Outstanding Achievement during AccountMate's annual SYNERGY Conference in Las Vegas, Nev. Tamlin, developer of Manufacturing Conductor™, also received three performance-based awards during the conference.

According to AccountMate, the "President's Award in Recognition of Outstanding Achievement" is not based on revenue achievement or product sales recognition, but bestowed to an AccountMate Business Partner and organization that exhibits exceptional leadership in improving their clients' overall business applications, and whose courage, initiative, creativity and, in some cases, personal sacrifice, has made a difference for the greater whole.

In addressing Bryan and her company's achievements, AccountMate President and CEO David Dierke remarked, "Your leadership and tenacity have set an example of what can be accomplished when focusing on the unique needs and demands of a client. Without question, Tamlin's exceptional work has assisted a greater number of clients in building successful and profitable businesses by providing affordable mission-critical software solutions that far exceed the average solutions available within our industry today."

In addition to the President's Award, Tamlin received the following AccountMate Partnership Awards based on revenues over a 13-month period, Jan. 1, 2011 through Jan. 31, 2012:

- In Recognition of Exceptional Performance: SQL Installations
- In Recognition of Superior Performance: Maintenance Agreements
- In Recognition of Exceptional Performance: BizNet for AccountMate

"On behalf of our entire team, we are extremely humbled and honored with AccountMate's recognition of our efforts at Tamlin," said Bryan. "The integration of Manufacturing Conductor with AccountMate software creates a combined package that fills a wide range of manufacturers' needs, and because AccountMate provides source code to both resellers and us as a software developer, Manufacturing Conductor takes advantage of all the built-in inventory capability."
