RedTail EDI

_____

Product Description

RedTail EDI managed cloud service provides all the benefits of world-class trade compliance without buying EDI software or hardware or adding staff. RedTail takes responsibility for your EDI success – every transaction, with every trading partner, every day – beginning with setup and testing of your trading relationships.

RedTail powers transaction processing in a secure cloud that performs all translation and mapping. Transactions are monitored constantly so problems are corrected before they become critical. RedTail EDI integrates directly to AccountMate with no manual re-entry of data, and provides a simple way to view transactions. Best of all, everything is managed, maintained and supported by RedTail's experienced EDI team.
